Welcome to summer here at Prairie View Care Center! It started with a flurry when the state surveyors arrived last Monday. It turned out to be a great learning experience. We were pleased with the results of the survey. As always, there are some changes to be made. These changes will be posted near the social services office for you to review.

Among the buzzwords in long term care these days is the term "culture change". This is a shift from the hospital model to a more homelike model of care. In an effort to accomplish this, we try to do more fun things that we are all used to doing at home so we had a picnic. We are fortunate to have all of our rooms full so we called it our "Full House Picnic".

Chad was in charge of the grill and entertainment for our picnic.
